Finish up the season at Vinegar Hill

The second season at Vinegar Hill Music Theatre is drawing to a close this weekend, but there’s still two final acts that will bring plenty of music and fun to fall.

On Friday night, “One Night in Memphis” will bring you back to a certain night in 1956, when Elvis Presley, Carl Perkins, Jerry Lee Lewis and Johnny Cash came together for a memorable jam session. The show starts at 8 p.m.

On Saturday night, The Platters - famous for “My Prayers” and “The Great Pretender” - will bring their strong vocals to the theatre to close out the season on a high note. Show time is 8 p.m.

‘From Here to Eternity’ at Ogunquit Playhouse

Through Oct. 29
* The Ogunquit Playhouse is honored to be collaborating with Tim Rice and the Finger Lakes Musical Theatre Festival on the rollout of the North American premiere of the epic new musical From Here to Eternity, based on James Jones’ acclaimed novel with lyrics by Tim Rice, book by Donald Rice and Bill Oakes, and music by Stuart Brayson. Set in Hawaii in the weeks before the 1941 attack on Pearl Harbor, this epic tale follows the powerful story of two U.S soldiers, the soulful Private Prewitt and ardent Sergeant Warden, as they embark on doomed and dangerous love affairs with the wrong women. As the infamous date of December 7th approaches, the claustrophobic world of the four lovers and the desperation of the soldiers of G Company splinter amidst an escalating war. The compelling story of men at war along with a fantastic new score is not to be missed. Run Time: 2 hours 45 minutes Content Advisory: PG - Strong language, mature themes and some violence. FMI: ogunquitplayhouse.org.
