Mondays, 2-5pm
(3 sessions) May 1, May 8, May 15, 2023
Instructor: Sarah Cassani

"Alla prima" is an Italian phrase that translates to "at once" or "at first attempt". For oil painters, this approach is all about creating a painting in one sitting. In this class we will explore the history, materials and techniques of oil painting in the alla prima style. Working from direct observation of the still life, we will complete three paintings in oils, one at each sitting, building speed and confidence as we go.

This class is for beginner or intermediate painters with some oil painting experience. A background in drawing may be helpful but is not required.
