

Oceanside ADC

Owner?

Benjamin Lacouette

Primary business/service offered?

Wildlife removal and exclusion work (home is sealed from future entrance).

What makes your business special?

We are family owned and operated. We are always continuing our training to extend our knowledge about wildlife and home exclusion product installation. We humanely handle the removal of bats, skunks, rodents, woodchucks, beavers, squirrels and more. We are equipped with top of the line traps, exclusion material and safety equipment for all your residential and commercial needs.

Best thing you sell/serve/do?

Humane removal of wildlife and home exclusions.

Something people don't realize about your business?

As an animal damage control agent, our process is taking the most humane measures for wildlife removal while providing health and safety to the property owners. We follow very strict rules and regulations on handling wildlife and removal from the state of Maine. Most residential and commercial building owners do not understand the damage wildlife can do to a property. We do habitat modification along with exclusion work to eliminate the problem. Preventative measures can be taken by doing full home exclusion. Sealing up roof vents, gable vents, ridge vents and the base of the home siding that meets the foundation, especially for a home that is unoccupied in the winter. We offer warranty work for full home exclusions, and for homes unoccupied during the winter, along with home check-ups and walk throughs to give peace of mind for your home during winter and rodent/wildlife control all together.
