How long in business?

Michael has been selling/buying real estate in Maine since 2012.

Primary business/service offered?

Buying and selling homes across Maine — from coastal cottages to lake and mountain retreats, multifamily properties, and helping first-time homebuyers every step of the way. Michael is also a real estate investor and owns his own multifamily and single family rental properties. He enjoys helping people invest in real estate for their future.

What makes your business special?

Michael has lived across Maine — Kennebunk, Arundel, Biddeford, Saco, and Bar Harbor — he knows these communities personally, not just professionally. When he gives advice, it comes from real experience. Michael has resided in Arundel for 30 years and worked in the Kennebunks for over 20 years.

Best thing you sell/serve/do?

He walks clients through every step of buying or selling, making sure nothing feels confusing or overwhelming. People leave the process feeling informed and confident.

Something people don't realize about your business/services?

Michael is an active real estate investor himself — he owns multifamily properties, has flipped homes, and helps investors find vacation properties in Maine's coastal areas as well as lakes and mountains. Michael is also a land developer. He resides in Arundel with his wife, two children and dog.
