What makes your business special?
The design build model saves clients time and money. We pride ourselves in Maine craftsmanship - knowing the ins and out of building on the coast, and we use modern communication and real time updates and communication

Best thing you sell/serve/do?
Design build services (coherent communication and group think from Day 1, integrated team working together with clients working towards the same goal… your home built right.)

Something people don't realize about your business?
We offer commercial building as well. Chris brings more than 20 years of industry experience and holds an MA in Construction Supervision. He is also LEED certified (Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design) which means he is trained and worked to incorporate green building in both commercial and residential building.
